Summary

I am a high school freshman in Oakland California. I am on the honor roll and a part of my schools engineering club. I play basketball and guitar. I speak enough French to hold a conversation with others. I love sports cars and movies. Someday I would like to work in both of those industries.

I am currently training with CodeForward Academy to prepare for college and learning technology, science and engineering skills to help me in whatever career I choose to go into. I enjoy learning technology and science and I get along with people in groups working together to learn.
